Wood Bowls From the Urban Forest

Come to the Hollywood Farmer's Market!

This Sunday 8:00AM to 1:00PM.

I'm quietly celebrating Winter and Oak this week. They seem to be good allies.

You need to feel a bowl to properly appreciate its qualities.

I bring mine to the market and invite you to touch.

Here are some new things. I'll post these and several more on my website. But come visit them in person—me too—at the market Sunday morning.

It would look great with a Navajo blanket.

White Oak Natural (12" x 5") $150

This jar is quite heavily weighted on the bottom and would look great holding a collection of wood cooking spoons and salad forks.

White Oak Jar (10" x 7") $150

I love the contrast of colors. Looks like the old West.

White Oak with Bark (10" x 5") $150

Great tough forks for a pretty large bowl.

White Oak Forks (15" long) $150
